Soldiers and Sailors Monument Formally Dedicated Today.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES

In the Presence of the Assembled Veterans of the State the Work Is Pronounced Finished.

In Behalf of the Commonwealth Gov. Durban Accepts Great Shaft From the Regents.

Indianapolis, May 15.—With impressive ceremonies the beautiful monument erected by a grateful state in memory of the services of her soldiers and sailors was today solemnly dedicated to the noble purpose for which

It was intended, being formally tendered to the state by the board of control and accepted by Governor Durbin, acting in behalf of the commonwealth.

The formal exercises at the monument this forenoon were presided over by General Lew Wallace. The presentation speech was made by Major Gustavus V. Menzies on behalf of the board of regents. The dedicatory oration was delivered by General John W. Foster of Washington, and a special feature of the occasion was the reading by the "Hoosier Poet," Jas. Whitcomb Riley, of a poem prepared especially for the event, the whole affair receiving special significance through the presence of the department of Indiana, Grand Army of the Republic, thousands of the veterans of the civil war, a small remnant of the survivors of the Mexican war, and many of the Spanish war veterans gathered around the base of the noble shaft, whose great tablets commemorate their deeds.

At 8 o'clock the old soldiers received the battle-flags from their secure receptacles at the state house and marched in procession with them to the monument, where they were placed on exhibition for the day. These colors were escorted by regiments and batteries of the three wars. The dedicatory exercises at the monument began at 10 o'clock. Governor Durbin called the assembly to order and an eloquent invocation for divine guidance was delivered by Past Chaplain-in-Chief Rev. D. R. Lucas. Major General Lew Wallace, the presiding officer of the day, was then introduced and made an eloquent address. Interspersing the addresses were appropriate songs by a large chorus of trained voices. Major Menzies of the board of monument regents in a brief address and with fitting words then made the formal presentation of the great memorial pile to the state, acceptance on behalf of the state being made by Governor Winfield T. Durbin.

Governor Durbin said in part: "This noble shaft typifies the love of our people for the supremacy of the flag and the integrity of the Union. The majestic mass of masonry, towering above this presence, mutely bids all the world take note that the people of this proud and prosperous commonwealth are not unmindful of the blood and treasure expended in upholding principles upon which human liberty rests and upon which constitutional government is founded.

"In assuming this trust it is hardly necessary for me to offer assurance that it will forever receive from the state that care essential to its proper preservation. It has been erected not in honor of any man, but of all men who have given testimony of allegiance to the cause of civil liberty, and in that spirit it will be perpetuated as a sacred inheritance by those whose forbears achieved with flaming sword and bayonet all that is symbolized here in stone and bronze.

"With reverence we remember the men who gave their lives in defense of their country's honor. A few years ago, on this spot where we are now assembled, a prince of eloquence, a soldier-orator, expressed a sentiment that has thrilled all human hearts, and, in sacred memory of the men he loved and praised, I repeat the words so eloquently uttered by that brave and chivalrous patriot: "These heroes are dead! They died for liberty—they died for us! They are at rest! They sleep in the land they made free, under the flag they rendered stainless, under the solemn pines, the sad hemlocks, the tearful willows, the embracing vines. They sleep beneath the shadows of the clouds, careless alike of sunshine or storm, each in the windowless palace of rest. Earth may run red with other wars—they are at peace. In the midst of battles, in the roar of conflict, they found the serenity of death. I have but one sentiment for the soldiers, living and dead—cheers for the living, tears for the dead."

The governor, then turning to the department commander of the G. A. R., said: "As chief executive, in the name of all the people of the state, I request you and your comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic to dedicate this monument to the noble purpose for which it has been erected." Then followed the impressive dedicatory ritualistic exercises, conducted by the G. A. R., Department of Indiana.

After these ritualistic exercises General John W. Foster delivered his oration, which was followed by the reading of Mr. Riley's beautiful poem.

This afternoon there was a great military parade, including all visiting old soldiers and the entire Indiana National Guard. The day will close with vesper services at the monument by the old soldiers, under the direction of General Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and a great campfire at Tomlinson hall this evening.

THE SOLDIER

BY JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

THE SOLDIER! Meek the title, yet divine:
Therefore, with reverence, as with wild acclaim,
We fain would honor in exalted line
The glorious lineage of the glorious name:
The Soldier! Lo, he ever was, and is,
Our Country's high custodian, by rights
Of patriot blood that brims that heart of his
With fiercest love, yet honor infinite.

The Soldier—within whose inviolate care
The Nation takes repose, her inmost fane
Of Freedom ever has its guardian there,
As have her forts and fleets on land and main;
The heavenward banner, as its ripples stream
In happy winds, or float in languid flow,
Through silken meshes ever sifts the gleam
Of sunshine on its sentinel below.

The Soldier! Why, the very utterance
Is music—as of rallying bugles, blent
With blur of drums and cymbals and the chants
Of battle-hymns that shake the continent—
The thunder-chorus of a world is stirred
To awful universal jubilee,
Yet ever through it, pure and sweet, are heard
The prayers of Womanhood and Infancy

Even as a fateful tempest sudden loosed
Upon our senses, so our thoughts are blown
Back where The Soldier battled, nor refused
A grave all nameless in a clime unknown.
The Soldier—though, perchance, worn, old and gray;
The Soldier—though, perchance, the merest lad,
The Soldier—though he gave his life away,
Hearing the shout of "Victory!" was glad.

Aye, glad and grateful, that in such a cause
His veins were drained at Freedom's holy shrine—
Rechristening the land—as first it was,
His blood poured thus in sacramental sign
Of new baptism of the hallowed name
"My Country"—now on every lip once more
And blest of God with still enduring fame.
This thought even then The Soldier gloried o'er.

The dying eyes upraised in rapture there,
As, haply, he remembered how a breeze
Once swept his boyish brow and tossed his hair,
Under the fresh bloom of the orchard-trees—
When his heart hurried, in some wistful haste
Of ecstasy, and his quick breath was wild
And balmy-sharp and chilly-sweet to taste,
And he towered Godlike, though a trembling child!

Again, through luminous mists, he saw the skies!
Far fields white-tented, and in gray and blue
And dazzling gold, he saw vast armies rise
And fuse in fire—from which, in swiftest view
The Old Flag soared, and friend and foe as one
Blent in an instant's vivid mirage—then
The eyes closed smiling on the smiling sun
That changed the seer to a child again.

And, even so, The Soldier slept. Our own!
The Soldier of our plaudits, flowers, and tears,
O this memorial of bronze and stone—
His love shall outlast this a thousand years!
Yet, as the towering symbol bids us do,
With soul saluting as salutes the hand,
We answer as The Soldier answered to
The Captain's high command

G. A. R. RESOLVES

Indiana Old Soldiers Decry the Criticism of the Army.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Benjamin Starr of Richmond Succeeds Captain Garrigus as Commander in Chief.

Stern Rebuke Administered to Those Who Are Crying Down the Army.

Indianapolis, May 15.—The Department of Indiana G. A. R. yesterday elected the following officers:

The following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, The veterans of the war for the Union abhor and despise all citizens of the United States who refuse to support our government during war and cannot see wherein the copperheads of 1898 to 1902 are less venomous than their ancestors; therefore be it

Resolved, That the survivors of the war for the Union heartily approve the conduct of the United States in the war with Spain and the insurrection in the Philippine islands and that we hold in scorn and contempt all citizens of the United States who see fit to brand our soldiers and their conduct as cruel and inhuman.

WHEELER MUST HANG

Supreme Court Refuses to Change the Sentence.

Indianapolis, May 15.—Buck Wheeler must hang. The supreme court yesterday affirmed his conviction in the Warrick circuit court of murder in the first degree and sealed the sentence of death. June 6 is the date for the execution. The opinion was rendered by Judge Dowling, the other judges all concurring.

National Meeting of Dunkards. Richmond, Ind., May 15.—Arrangements are well under way for the national meeting of Dunkards to be held next week in the town of Elders, a few miles east of this city. Several hundred men, all members of the Dunkard society, are at work on the ground. Two wooden tabernacles have been erected. One building is 110 by 70 feet and the other 96 by 76 feet. The business of the entire assembly and all the religious services will be held in one structure, while the other will be used as a dining room. Arrangements are being made to seat more than 1,000 at a time.

The Jennings Case. Indianapolis, May 15.—Judge Baker of the federal court has overruled the motion of the defendants in the case of David Jennings against more than 25 leading citizens of Salem, Ind., for $200,000 damages, that the trial be held at New Albany, Ind. It will be held in Indianapolis, beginning Monday, and promises to be of a sensational nature, as Jennings charged that he was whitecapped, mobbed, his business destroyed, and the affections of his wife alienated.

Attempted Assassination. Alexandria, Ind., May 15.—John Hartman, a glassworker, while going to work at 2 o'clock in the morning, was fired on by several men. He exchanged shots with them and chased them until they disappeared in the darkness. It is thought that the attempt to assassinate Hartman was due to his services as special constable in a recent raid on a gambling house.

Counterfeit Money. Evansville, Ind., May 15.—Considerable counterfeit money has been passed here during the last day or two and government agents are at work with the police trying to run down the "shovers." The money is in halves and quarters. It was first detected in the revenue office, where some of it had been taken in. The imitation is good, but it is light in weight.

Farmer's Suicide. Montpelier, Ind., May 15.—Reuben McConkey, a farmer west of town, was found dead in a boiler house of a pumping plant yesterday. He had been pumping the oil wells on his farm. His mouth was burned with carbolic acid, and it is supposed he committed suicide. The coroner is investigating the case.

Will Meet at Idaville. Idaville, Ind., May 15.—The general eldership of the Church of God of North America will meet here May 29. The opening sermon will be preached on Wednesday by Charles Fox, dean of Findlay college of Ohio. The board of missions and the Women's Missionary Society meeting will be held May 28.

Tree Fell On Him. Washington, Ind., May 15.—Louis Smead, a young farmer, was killed by a tree falling on him.

PLEA OF BUSINESS

Indiana Congressmen Couldn't Get Home For the Dedication.

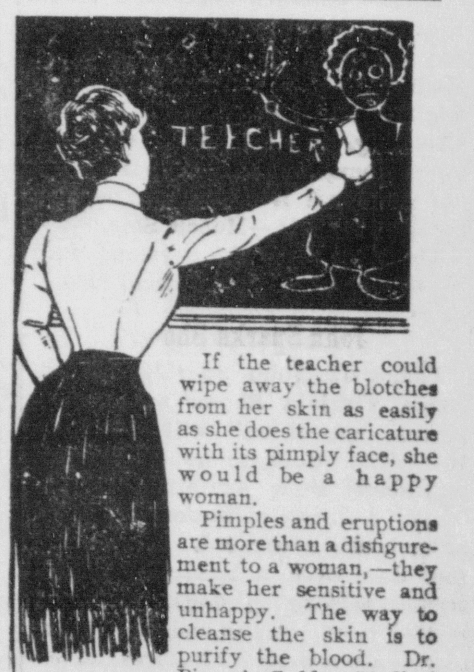

Indianapolis, May 15.—Senator Fairbanks was the only member of the Republican delegation in Washington who attended the monument dedication this afternoon. He arrived at noon and was given a warm reception as usual by his large circle of friends. The veterans especially were well pleased with his appearance at the big show that was given in their honor. Senator Fairbanks will have to leave at once for Washington owing to the great rush of business in the senate. The absence of the Republican members of congress and of Senator Beveridge was excused today on the grounds that the end of the session is near and that it was impossible for them to get away. Nearly every member sent regrets pleading rush of business as an excuse for not attending. General John W. Foster, the orator of the occasion, who was suffering during his speech from a slight attack of grippe, was obliged to leave before the exercises finished to take a train for Washington.

The federal authorities propose to see if there is such a thing as a beef trust in Indiana. Yesterday subpoenas were issued for representatives of the big Chicago packing houses and the representatives of the local packing companies to appear before the federal grand jury and testify regarding the situation. A number of butchers were also summoned to tell whether or not the packers distribute the trade so that prices can be maintained at a high mark. There has been much complaint here, as elsewhere, against the sky-high prices that meats are commanding, but butchers say Indianapolis has not suffered as other cities have. While it is denied that a trust exists in Indianapolis it is understood that one firm fixes the prices and that the others follow its lead. It really does not look as if there is much hope for relief from the high prices until corn sells for a lower figure, as representatives of the packers say that cattle will continue to sell high unless corn goes down as low as 35 or 40 cents a bushel.

A suggestion that meets with much favor among Republican leaders is that the speaking campaign ought to be opened about the middle of September by Senator Hanna. The latter made a number of speeches in Indiana during the national campaign and he proved to be one of the strongest attractions the Republicans brought into the state. The speakers' bureau had at least a hundred applications for "Uncle" Mark that could not be filled, so the idea of getting him to open the state campaign and make a few speeches in the larger places seems to have struck a popular chord. The state committee has not decided when the campaign will be opened nor who will open it, but it would not be surprising if Senator Hanna has the honor if he will accept it.

Stephen B. Fleming of Fort Wayne, the boyish looking senator from Allen county, has started a boom for Hugh Dougherty of Bluffton for chairman of the Democratic state convention. Both Fleming and Dougherty are here attending the dedication. The movement to make Dougherty chairman is liable to gather considerable headway during the next few days, judging from the kindly way in which it has been received. Dougherty, however, is not a candidate for the honor. The party leaders who have been hoping he would accept the nomination for congress in the Eighth district are doomed to disappointment, as he will not be able to make the race owing to his large private interests taking all his time.

He Was Despondent. Sullivan, Ind., May 15.—Walter McCrocklin, a young man of Farmersburg, despondent because he could not complete his education, shot himself in the temple. He will recover.

If the teacher could wipe away the blotches from her skin as easily as she does the caricature with its pimply face, she would be a happy woman. Pimples and eruptions are more than a disfigurement to a woman—they make her sensitive and unhappy. The way to cleanse the skin is to purify the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the clogging accumulations and poisons which corrupt it. When these are removed, pimples, boils, eruptions, sores, and other consequences of impure blood are entirely cured.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams of 116 West Main St., Battle Creek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."

Accept no substitute for the "Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for impure blood and skin diseases. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 51 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Kodol

Digests
what you
Eat
Dyspepsia Cure

If you have indigestion don't resort to stimulants to force your stomach beyond its strength. It is only because it is weak and tired that it fails to perform its task. A stimulant may lend false strength for a time but the very violence of the effort the abused organ will make weakens it more than ever. With the reaction following the use of the stimulant will consequently come keener suffering than before. Nor will the stomach respond so readily to the next treatment of a similar character. With each repetition conditions will be worse than before. What the stomach wants is rest. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will furnish such a rest. It digests what you eat. All other preparations lack one or more of the natural digestants. Consequently they can't effect a complete cure. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure contains them all. It acts just as the stomach acts. While it does the stomach's work the stomach is obtaining the rest which it needs to restore it to a healthy condition. "I used to suffer so from indigestion that even a soda cracker or glass of water would cause agony," says H. L. Wharton, New Belne, N. C. "I commenced using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it soon cured me." Weak and sickly children thrive on it.

Won't Follow Advice After Paying for it.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patients to carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, namely, the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation as they leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. W. Milhouse.

INDIANA'S RECORD IN WAR.

Hoosiers Have a Right to be Proud of Their Military Service.

At this time when Indiana is formally dedicating the greatest and most beautiful soldiers' monument in the world it is appropriate to briefly review the military record of our great state.

During the administration of Governor James Whitcomb, in 1840, war was declared with Mexico. The soldiers of Indiana who served in this war were formed into five regiments of volunteers, numbered respectively 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th. Companies of the three first named regiments served with Illinois and New York volunteers and with the Palmettos of South Carolina, under General James Shields, and took part in the siege of Vera Cruz and the desperate encounter at Cerro Gorda, and the contests at Churubusco and Chapultepec, and the planting of the stars and stripes over the conquered City of Mexico.

The fourth regiment was organized at Jeffersonville, Ind., June 15, 1847. Willis A. Gorman was colonel and Ebenezer Dumont lieutenant colonel. This regiment performed gallant service on many fields and was discharged at Madison, Ind., July 11, 1848. The fifth Indiana regiment under command of Colonel J. H. Lane gained celebrity at Vera Cruz and Churubusco.

In the war of the rebellion Indiana was among the first to respond to the summons of patriotism. Indiana has always been imbued with the war spirit and the fall of Fort Sumpter was the signal for the uprising of the State. On April 15, 1861, but a few hours after the news of the calamity was telegraphed to Indianapolis, Oliver P. Morton, then governor of Indiana, tendered by wire to Abraham Lincoln, president, "On behalf of the State for the defense of the Nation, and to uphold the authority of the Government," ten thousand men.

The president's first call was for 75,000 troops. The people with an enthusiasm never before equaled made it apparent that Indiana alone could place 75,000 men demanded at the president's disposition at once. Governor Morton convened the legislature in extra session immediately and the assembly appropriated $740,000 for military purposes.

Within three days after the opening of the extra session of the legislature (April 27th) six new regiments were organized and commissioned for three months service. In order that there might be no confusion with the Mexican war regiments, these first regiments were numbered respectively 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th. They participated in the early Virginia campaign at Laurel Hill, Phillipi and Carricks Ford, the first battles of the war and displayed such gallantry that Gen. George B. McClellan on their return home to enter the three year's service, dispatched to Gov. Morton, July 21, 1861, the following:

"I can not permit them to return to you without again expressing my high appreciation of the distinguished valor and endurance of the Indiana troops."

Who, that was fortunate to live in those grand but awful times, can forget the stirring scenes. Robt. G. Ingersoll approached nearer to a description of them than any one has ever done in a speech to the soldiers at Indianapolis, in part as follows:

"Again we are in the great struggle for national life. We hear the sounds of preparation, the music of heroic drums, the silver voice of heroic bugles, we see the pale cheeks of women and the flushed faces of men. We see them when they enlist in the great army of freedom. We see them part with those they love. Some are walking for the last time in quiet and woody places with the maidens they adore. Others are bending over cradles, kissing babies that are asleep. Some are receiving the blessings of old men. Some are parting with mothers who hold them and press them to their hearts again and again and say nothing; and some are talking with wives and endeavoring with brave words, spoken in the old tones, to drive from their hearts the awful fear. We see them part. We see the wife standing in the door with the babe in her arms—standing in the sunlight sobbing—at the turn of the road a hand waves—she answers by holding in her loving hands the child. He is gone and forever. We see them all as they march proudly away under the flaunting flags keeping time to the wild grand music of war, marching down the streets of the great cities, through the towns and across the prairies, down to the fields of glory to do and to die for the eternal right."

The Indiana soldiers were the tallest in the world. The Adjutant General of Indiana, then W. H. H. Terrell, made this statement: "It is evident from our statistics that the Indiana men are the tallest of all natives of the United States, and these latter the tallest of all civilized countries."

Among Indiana volunteers, 14,373 were 66 inches tall.

In the Spanish-American war Indiana was first of all the states to be ready with her quota of soldiers. The regiments in this war were the 157th, 158th, 159th 160th and 161st. Besides these there were two companies of colored troops and hundreds of others who enlisted in the regular army and were assigned to different regiments of United States troops. Indiana people have always been patriotic and loyal, ready at all times to defend the flag and uphold the authority of the government.

Dr. L. M. Maines sr. was one of the color guards of the Eleventh Indiana, in the parade today.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Things Which Occupy Attention of National Law Makers.

Washington, May 15.—During the greater part of the senate session yesterday the fortifications appropriation bill was under consideration. Mr. Proctor of Vermont offered an amendment providing that no part of the appropriation made should be used for procuring disappearing gun-carriages. The amendment precipitated a debate which continued for two hours and had not been concluded when the measure was laid aside for the day. Mr. Proctor led the fight against disappearing carriages, declaring that they never would be effective, and that in actual war it would be shown they were a lamentable failure. Mr. Perkins (Cal.) warmly defended the war department in adopting the disappearing carriages, maintaining that the bulk of the evidence upon the subject was in support of the carriages. For some time the senate had under consideration the bill providing for the construction of a union railway station in Washington.

The naval appropriation bill occupied the attention of the house throughout the day. The debate took a wide range at times. Rising to a question of personal privilege Mr. Mahon (Pa.) indignantly denied statements contained in a circular sent to members alleging that certain contributions had been made to his campaign expenses.

James P. Hornaday, staff correspondent of the Indianapolis News at Washington, is a member of the party on board the cruiser Dixie of the United States navy which sailed last night from New York with a large supply of food for the Martinique sufferers. He is the only Indiana man, it is understood, who will accompany the expedition.

CREED REVISION.

Important Subject Before Presbyterian General Assembly.

New York, May 15.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church was opened at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, this city, today. The session will continue during 15 days. The greatest interest in this assembly centers about the report to be made by the committee on the revision of the confession of faith. This report is to be the final one made by the committee, and while in many quarters revision is regarded as necessary, there is also a strong feeling against action on the subject. It is hoped by the advocates of revision that the election of a new member to the faculty of the McCormick Theological seminary of Chicago will force the issue, even if the report of the committee does not. A candidate for this post is the Rev. Dr. James S. Riggs of Auburn seminary. He was chosen by the faculty of McCormick seminary to fill the chair of the New Testament exegesis and literature by a bare majority, the cause of opposition being the candidate's alleged advocacy of the belief that Adam and a number of other Old Testament characters were allegorical; that there are errors in the Bible, and that the evolutionary theory of creation is the correct one. It is predicted that there will be a contest on the election of Dr. Riggs, and that much that will be pertinent to the subject of creed revision will be expressed in this discussion.

INDIANA.

(WRITTEN FOR DEDICATION DAY.)

Proud state; on the Great Seal the rising sun Tells not thy battles fought, thy victories won.

Thy sun stands now above meridian line. And 'round thy brow the wreaths of victory twine.

Decades ago, the woodman felled the forest tree. Thy fertile fields are like a golden sea.

Is pillar now, pilaster, spire and dome. Where was the wigwam, the Shawnee's home.

Where fearless roamed the bison and the deer, Industry's countless artisans appear.

On field, in form, in the halls of state Thy name is written with the good and great.

When from the rampart guns o'er Charles-ton's sea.

Burst the armaments of war the heraldry, Madly against old Sumpter's grim gray wall. This to thy sons was more than clarion call.

There marshaled in thy fertile valleys then More than two hundred thousand valiant men.

Leaving the hearth-stone for bivouac and tent Into the tumult of battle they went.

On thrice a hundred bloody fields and more Bravely thy sons the starry banner bore.

On hill's field, Antietam, Chancellorsville, The burning wilderness and Champion Hill.

Today the old flag flutters in the summer breeze O'er freedom's land above her widening seas.

But on hillside, in grassy glen and glade, There side by side its rescuers are laid.

Some by the rivers sleep, some by the sea Where erst was heard the chains of slavery.

Some sleep beneath a sunny southern sky, A mighty host returned triumphantly.

Bring out the old flags torn by shot and shell, These precious banners waved where freedom fell.

Let youthful eyes gaze on their blood-stained folds, And know yon towering stone their memory holds.

For now the victor and his valorous foe One flag, one hope, one aspiration know.—S. E. CARTER.

VERY MUCH WANTED.

The Last Few Years has Shown A Remarkable Increase of Sleeplessness how to Overcome it.

Sleeplessness is one of the most prolific sources producing weak, nervous and a restless condition. There is no sense in using opiates, they only undermine the constitution. Nothing has ever been known to perfectly control this condition until the advent of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, their action is so gentle and soothing that sweet refreshing sleep follows, then nature has a chance to build up.

Mrs. F. K. Mackey of 614 poplar St., south Seymour, Ind., says: "I was a sufferer from severe nervousness, sleeplessness and dizziness. I was advised to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. I got a box at A. J. Pellet's Drug Store and now after using the medicine I am pleased to say my nervous system has been toned up, I sleep well and am relieved of those dizzy spells. I consider these pills a splendid nerve medicine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at all druggists or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature A. W. Chase, M. D. are on every package.

AFTER BABY COMES.

The Disappointments of a Weak Mother.

After the baby's coming the weak mother often has her first great disappointment in not being able to nurse her child. Perhaps she is not strong enough to sustain more than her own life during the days of slow convalescence. Perhaps there is a lack of the secretions which make the baby's food. In any case she feels robbed of half the joy of her maternity because she cannot nurse her child. And she envies the healthy woman who cares for it and who permits the mother to occasionally see and caress her own baby. If women would consider the matter they could hardly expect to be strong after the baby's coming if they were weak before. The woman who suffers during the prenatal period—who is nervous and sleepless and without appetite, is exhausting her vitality before the hour of her trial, and when that time comes her very weakness increases her sufferings and prolongs them. It is no wonder, if, after the baby is born, the mother has no strength to nurse it. The one great necessity for happy motherhood is good health.

THE SECRET OF HEALTHY MOTHERHOOD lies largely in the proper preparation for the great physical strain and drain which women undergo at such a time. A proper preparation for maternity will keep the nerves tranquil and the temper even, it will encourage the appetite and give restful sleep. It will enable the mother to actively engage in her household duties until the time of the baby's advent, and give her strength to give her child.

Because it does all this and more women have named Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription "A God-send to mothers." "I take this opportunity of expressing my everlasting gratitude to you for the wonderful benefits I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. E. H. Newton, of Vanburen, Aroostook Co., Maine. "My baby was born in May, 1896, and for weeks after I was delicious. My friends did not know whether I would live or die. The doctor in attendance did not give much encouragement, and said that if I did get well I would never live through another such period. When I consulted you in April, 1899, I was in poor health; had been sick all winter, and to add to my trouble, was on the road to what the doctor said would end my days. I was almost discouraged; did not expect any help, but thought the end was only a matter of time, and—oh! my two poor, little, motherless children.

"It was in this condition that I began the use of your valuable medicine. On receipt of your letter of April 6th my husband purchased six bottles and I used it as you directed. When you wrote me words of encouragement on April 27th I had received no benefit from the medicine, but determined as a last resort to give it a fair trial. I am now taking the thirteenth and last bottle. I have a lovely baby girl three weeks old that weighed 11½ pounds at birth. My baby and I are enjoying perfect health, thanks to your wonderful medicines, to which I believe I owe my life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to you, and I hope you may long be spared to perform the good work in which you are now engaged."

MOTHERS PONDER THIS! It is not only you who suffer when you are weak during the term of maternity, but your child must suffer also. It can have only what strength you can give. Your nervousness, fretfulness and fearfulness will leave a life-long impress upon your child, and while you in a few months will recover from the effects of the trial you have undergone, the baby's whole life will reflect the influence of those months of maternal misery.

If you can be a strong, healthy mother by any means, you owe it to your child to use those means at any cost. It is a matter of record that thousands of women to whom maternity was a menace and a misery have been made healthy, happy mothers by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which gives abundant strength and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. S. E. Rose, of Big Otter, Clay Co., West Va. "I feel it my duty to say to all women who are suffering from female troubles that it is the best medicine on earth that they can use. I cannot praise it too highly for the good it has done me."

I am the mother of five children, and have been as high as eight days in the doctor's hands, and never less than two days at any one time. Then I had used two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was only two hours in the hands of the doctor."

REALLY WONDERFUL RESULTS. Read the letter of Mrs. Rose carefully and you will realize why she cannot praise "Favorite Prescription" too highly. The difference between one hundred and ninety-two hours suffering reduced to two hours by the use of "Favorite Prescription" explains her gratitude, but cannot express it. It takes a woman and a mother to understand all that can be possible in one hundred and ninety-two hours of suffering at maternity.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only gives the mother strength in the period of waiting, but it cures or prevents nausea, and makes the baby's advent practically painless. It is the best tonic and nerve for nursing mothers. It promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child while giving strength to the mother. All alcoholic and stimulating medicines are particularly dangerous to nursing mothers, or in the period of convalescence which follows the baby's birth. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is a real nerve-feeding, body-building medicine.

FREE TO MOTHERS. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, the best modern medical work, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send thirty-one one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only twenty-one stamps for the book in paper covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DANGER NOT OVER

Mont Pelee Continues In a State of Threatening Activity.

DOOMED CITY GUARDED

Soldiers Throw a Cordon About the Ruins of St. Pierre to Protect Dead From Ghouls.

Lava Flowing From the Crater Threatens Greater Damage to North of Island.

Fort DeFrance, Island of Martinique, F. W. I., May 15.—Mont Pelee is still rumbling and three luminous points on the lower slopes of the mountain, which are casting incandescent rays, seem to presage a further calamity.

Castries, Island of St. Lucia, May 15.—The signal tower here reports that a large fire was seen last night in the direction of Fort DeFrance, Martinique.

The search parties which are removing the dead from St. Pierre have discovered stores and molten precious metal in stores and dwellings of the town. No one is permitted to penetrate into St. Pierre beyond the street running along the sea-front, and a cordon of soldiers has been placed around the town. The St. Pierre cathedral is all down with the exception of one tower, and of the theater the walls alone are now standing. The convent, which contained 200 girls and 36 nuns, has disappeared, as has the college, where 70 boys and 22 priests and professors were domiciled. Many thrilling and hair-breadth escapes from the eruption of Mont Pelee are reported.

The Soufriere volcano, on the Island of St. Vincent is still in destructive eruption. A terrific cannonade can be heard a hundred miles away. The reports are followed by columns of smoke rising miles in the air. Immense balls of colored fire also issue from the crater. Lightning is playing fiercely in the upper sky and the whole northern part of the island is one mass of traveling flame. It is impossible to reach the burning district by land or sea, and there are no means of estimating the destruction wrought to life and property.

Kingstown, the capital of St. Vincent, is still safe, though showers of ashes and pebbles are continually falling. The volcano itself is invisible. Conditions on the Island of St. Vincent are appalling. All the east coast has been devastated. All animal and vegetable life has been extinguished. Human beings, livestock, trees and plants have disappeared, killed or destroyed by sulphurous gases, lava, lightning and earthquake shocks.

Whooping Cough

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came on in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This remedy is for sale by C. W. Milbous, druggist.

MRS. IDA L. ROSER

Grand-Niece of Ex-President James K. Polk, Writes to Mrs. Pinkham Saying:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been married for nearly two years, and so far have not been blessed with a child. I have, however, suffered with a complication of female troubles and painful menstruation, until very recently.

MRS. IDA L. ROSER.

"The value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was called to my attention by an intimate friend, whose life had simply been a torture with inflammation and ulceration, and a few bottles of your Compound cured her; she can hardly believe it herself today, she enjoys such blessed health. I took four bottles of your Compound and consider myself cured. I am once more in fine health and spirits; my domestic and official duties all seem easy now, for I feel so strong I can do three times what I used to do. You have a host of friends in Denver, and among the best count. Yours very gratefully,—MRS. IDA L. ROSER, 326 18th Ave., Denver, Col.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.
